DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Dear Audience,

I am so excited to welcome you to the Miller Performing Arts Center today to see our production of Fiddler on the Roof. I feel extremely grateful and blessed to have been able to work with this incredibly gifted cast.

Fiddler on the Roof is the story of life in a small Russian shtetl in 1905, when Russia was still an empire, ruled by Tsar Nicholas II, head of the dictatorial Romanov dynasty. As Fiddler begins, the people of Anatevka have just received word of the Tsar's edict, which will shortly evict them from their homes. By the musical's end, the people of Anatevka are packed up, some moving to America, many others to Krakow (in modern-day Poland), for what they hope will be a new and better life. Over a century later, we know what becomes of the American immigrants and to those who immigrated to Poland. This knowledge only adds to the sadness and poignancy of this tremendous musical, which is steeped in so much true and tragic history.

Special thanks to my music director, Sue Logston, who has spent countless hours teaching and studying this musical score. To my daughter, Emilie, for her assistance and to my choreographers, LuAnn Madsen and Natalie Wittenberger with fun, but challenging choreography and to all those helping behind the stage for their hard work and dedication; without whom this show would not be possible.

As always, thank you for your support of the arts in our community.

Sincerely,

Mary Jo LaCorte

Director
